About the Speakers:

Dr. Damon Adams, a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Dentistry, is an assistant clinical professor at the University of Toledo, College of Medicine, Division of Dentistry. He lectures internationally focusing on updates in dental materials, the latest trends and innovations in dentistry, doctor-technician relationships, and techno-clinical perspectives. Dr. Robert Humphries earned his Doctor of Dental Surgery degree and Master of Science degree in Prosthodontics from the University of Michigan School of Dentistry in 1985 and 1988 respectively. During his studies in the prosthodontics graduate program, he also taught at the School of Dentistry in the graduate and undergraduate clinics, as well as, in the pre-clinical levels in both periodontics and prosthodontics. Dr. James Braun pursued the D.D.S. program at the University of Michigan and after graduation he earned a Masters degree in Prosthodontics from the same institution. Upon returning to his hometown of Saginaw, Michigan, he established a full-time private practice specializing in prosthodontics for over 30 years.
