“Treatment Planning for the Periodontal/Restorative Patient in the Titanium Age”

Friday April 5, 2024

Lansing Center - Lansing, MI

Course Objectives and Description:

This lecture will address the following primary topics (see our website for a complete listing):

1. To review the foundational basis of treatment planning using a programmed approach.
2. To understand the risks & benefits of providing implant treatment in today's environment.
3. To detail a repeatable protocol of restorative dentistry using a team approach of periodontist & restorative dentist to meticulously save teeth in a time of hasty implant treatment.
4. To substantiate this approach with both the literature & 30 years of clinical follow up.
5. To discuss the details of my own documented cases, their rationale & what I learned along the way.
